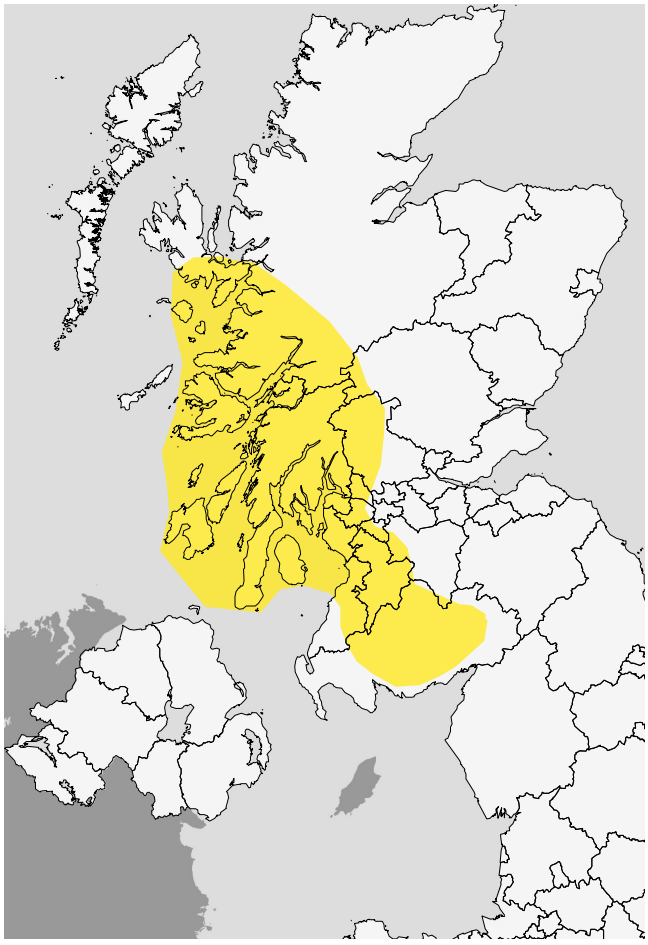
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
18:00 Sun 4 Aug 2024 and
21:00 Mon 5 Aug 2024



Heavy rain will bring the potential for some disruption across parts of western Scotland from Sunday evening, lasting through much of Monday

What to expect

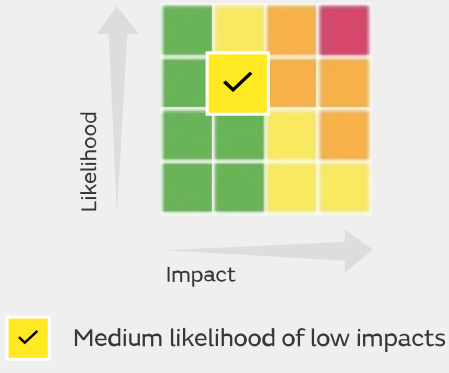
- Bus and train services probably affected with journey times taking longer.
- Spray and flooding on roads probably making journey times longer.
- Flooding of a few homes, businesses and campsites is possible.

Further details

A slow-moving band of rain is expected to affect western, central and southwestern Scotland from Sunday evening, only slowly clearing during Monday. Widely 20-40 mm of rain may fall within the warning area, but 50-75 mm is likely to fall over the higher ground of Lochaber, Argyll, the Trossachs and perhaps also Dumfries and Galloway.

Strong and gusty southerly winds will accompany the rain and there is the possibility of the odd rumble of thunder too.

What should I do?



Medium likelihood of low impacts

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding. If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
